Description

Paradise Found on Jug Creek! Welcome to a little piece of Old Florida tucked away in one of Bokeelia's most special waterfront settings. Nestled at the end of a lush, private road, this charming 2-bedroom cottage offers the kind of laid-back island lifestyle that's getting harder and harder to find. Cozy, comfortable and full of character, the home is surrounded by the natural beauty of Jug Creek. Enjoy gorgeous mangrove and water views from inside the cottage, or step out onto the back deck and watch the creek come to life. Dolphins and manatees are frequent visitors, osprey and bald eagles soar overhead, and the sunrises over the water can be spectacular. For the boater or fisherman, this location is truly special. Drop a line from your own dock or head out by boat — you're right around the corner from the open waters of Charlotte Harbor and just a short ride from Boca Grande, Cabbage Key and some of Southwest Florida's best fishing and boating. Back home, the cottage's front porch, picket fence and intimate setting give it the unmistakable feel of an island getaway — a place to slow down, spend more time outside and enjoy life on the water. Enjoy your own cozy waterfront cottage, your boat out back, incredible views and some of the best of Southwest Florida just minutes away. Paradise found — Old Florida style, right here on Jug Creek.
