Description

This prime 1.25-acre corner lot at 29120 Polk Dr. in desirable Punta Gorda drew tons of interest earlier this year, and it has just been transformed into an even more amazing opportunity. The seller has completely cleared and meticulously cleaned the grounds, providing a pristine, ready-to-use canvas for your next chapter. The entire property is now fully fenced, offering immediate boundary security and peace of mind, while the existing pole barn has undergone structural repairs and improvements to serve as a durable space for covered storage, a workshop, or an animal shelter. Zoned for mixed-use agricultural and residential, this expansive parcel delivers the ultimate blend of seclusion and utility. Situated on a quiet private road with electricity and cable readily accessible, you get peaceful country living without sacrificing modern convenience. Whether you plan to build a custom dream home, create a multi-generational family compound, or establish a small hobby farm, the flexible zoning gives you absolute freedom. Do not miss your chance to own this highly versatile, beautifully refreshed acreage—schedule your showing today and step into your Florida lifestyle!
