Description

Own a Piece of Calusa History - Indian Field Key is known as the east end of the ancient Pine Island Canal which ran from Pineland to Matlacha Pass and beyond. The Calusas built shell mounds which are known for their high elevations and stormworthiness. Featuring 3.14 acres of submerged land, significant potential for generating Greater Pine Island TDUs & as a saltwater forested mitigation parcel, opportunities like this are usually handed down by families for generations and never hit the open market. Make this piece of history your family legacy. Hold for Investment or possible development. Two tax parcels in unincorporated Lee County, FL Zoned AG-2 2.5 Nautical Miles NW of Matlacha Pass Bridge. No environmental studies or vegetation mapping done at time of listing.
